TABLES

On tables, no vertical line is used and each term should begin with a capital letter. Any important explanation to the understanding of the tables should be given as a footnote at the bottom of the table. All tables should be explained in the text. An example of constructing table:

Table 2. Body Weight, Feeding Level and Their Interactions on Water Intake, CP Intake, Energy Intake and Live Weight Gain of Indigenous Rams

Parameters	Light Body Weight		Heavy Body Weight		Significance
rarameters	1xM	1.5xM	1xM	1.5xM	BW	FL	INT
LWG (g/d)	-0.01	0.00	-0.03	0.05	ns	**	**
CP intake (g/d)	26.86	49.91	57.36	100.53	**	**	**
Energy intake (MJ/d)	3.12	5.79	6.66	11.67	**	**	**
TDN (g/d)	171.91	319.39	367.07	643.37	**	**	**
Water intake (ml/d)	1299.00	1412.00	1797.00	2647.00		*	ns

LWG = Live weight gain; M = maintenance; BW = body weight; FL = feeding levels; INT = interaction between body weight and level of feeding; = highly significant (P<0.01); * = significant (P<0.05); ns = non significant (P>0.05)

FIGURES

Figures should be drawn on white papers and lines should be less than 1 mm wide. The left vertical and bottom horizontal lines is used. All the figures should be numbered in consecutive order. Legends should be made outside of figure.

An example of constructing figure:

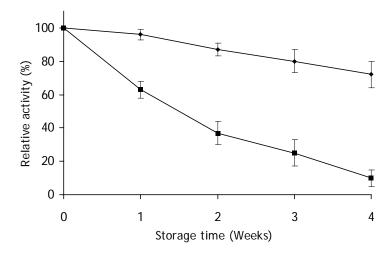

Figure 1. The storage stability of immobilized whey stored in 10 mM PB (pH 7.0) at 4°C for 4 weeks. The immobilized whey was achieved by circulating 100 ml of whey to 1.0 g of SP-FF and followed by washing to remove unbound LPO. The 100% of relative activity means the initial activity of immobilized whey right after immobilization process. The symbols represent immobilized whey (♠) and free enzyme (■). Data points are mean values based on triplicate determination. Error bars represent standard deviation of the mean.

TEXT CITATION RULE

In the body of the paper, refer to author as follows: Smith and Jones (2005). If the sentence structure requires the author's name be include in parentheses, then the proper format (Smith and Jones, 2005; McDonald, 2007) is used. Use "et al." following the first author when there are more than two authors but give all authors in the references.
